Dear Sir/Madam,

We are very happy that we received the Grants from the Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi to conduct the Periodical Lectures. We are very much grateful to the ICPR. We have organized two Periodical Lecture Programs successfully. Both the lectures were organized offline. Everything went well. We would like to heartily congratulate the ICPR for this yeoman work of propagating the Indian Knowledge and culture.

We are submitting all the relevant documents along with this letter. All the expenditure Bills are also attached as per your sanction order.

We look forward for your continued support and encouragement in the coming days too.

Thanking You

Brief Report

SURANA COLLEGE

No 16, South end Road, Basavanagudi, Bangalore -4

DEPARTMENT OF SAMSKRIT

Special Lecture

Sponsored by Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi.

The Department of Samskrit had organized Special Lecture Program on the "Relevance of Human Values in the 21st Century" on 12.01.2022 at 10:00AM with the financial assistance from the Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi. This Lecture was delivered by Dr. S Ranganath, Member, Advisory Board, Sahitya Akademi, New Delhi and the Former Director, R.V. Institute of Samskrit Studies, Bengaluru. In his lecture he demonstrated by quoting many examples how relevant are the human values in this modern age of 21st century. He also guided the students on how to imbibe the values on oneself. This lecture program was very helpful to the students and faculty present. Dr. Bhavani. M. R, Principal, Surana Degree College and Dr. Chandrashekharappa, Principal, Surana P.U. College, graced the occasion. Dr. Nagaratna Hegde, HOD, Dept. of Samskrit successfully organized this program along with Vidushi Roopa, Asst. Professor, Dept. of Samskrit. Around 100 students enthusiastically attend the program.

The Relevance Of Human Values In 21st Century

Dr. S Ranganath
Member, Sanskrit Advisory Board,
Sahitya Academy Delhi,

Men all over the world today are in perplexed minds and troubled hearts, about the way human life is being lived, amidst stupendous scientific development and marvelous technological advancements. Modern man is externally sophisticated and internally suffocated. He knows the price of every commodity but value of none. The man who has no value sense changes his behavior according to his moods. Dr. S Radhakrishnan defines values as follows- "Values are not mere rules or statues to be written down in the form of law but they are internalized process of living to be passed on to posterity in its pristine purity". 18th Century Wordsworth bemoaned- World is too much with us, getting and spending but no enduring values. If that was the condition three centuries ago, what to say about 21st Century?

Hence to follow the human values like Non-Violence, Truth, Righteousness, Charity, Compassion, Conduct, Forgiveness, Sense Of Discrimination, Contentment, Purity, Non-Stealing Nature, Control Over Senses, Association With Good People is the only solution for the man in 21st Century.

Let us follow some of the above human values and make ourselves worthy of living in this human planet.

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are very happy that we received the Grants from the Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi to conduct the Periodical Lectures. We are very much grateful to the ICPR. We have organized two Periodical Lecture Programs successfully. Both the lectures were organized offline. Everything went well. We would like to heartily congratulate the ICPR for this yeoman work of propagating the Indian Knowledge and culture.

We are submitting all the relevant documents along with this letter. All the expenditure Bills are also attached as per your sanction order.

We look forward for your continued support and encouragement in the coming days too.

Thanking You

The concept of liberation and its relevance today

Prof. Satheesha K. S.

Professor,

Department of Advaita Vedanta

National Sanskrit University,

Tirupati, A. P

21-1-2022

All philosophic doctrines invariably depict the power and process of creation. The exposition of the power and process of creation and its relation with the creator, real, virtual nature of creation, or otherwise is the first and foremost propound of all schools of thought. Owing to its being superimposed on the absolute principle as the substratum! The school of monism refutes the eternal and real nature of the phenomena. Therefore, the metaphysical portion of the Vedas or the Upaniṣads does not emphasize describing the power and process of creation. Notwithstanding the creation has been depicted by ancient seers from the standpoint of supposition and elimination or अध्यारोपापवादन्याय.

This Nyaya is very important to understand the concept of liberation in Advaita Vedanta. Because the bondage is considered to be unreal, the liberation from that is also unreal. Gaudapada clarifies this in his mandukya karika that -

न निरोधो न चोत्पत्तिः न बद्धो न च साधकः।

न मुमुक्षुः न वै मुक्तः इत्येषा परमार्थता।

This supports the idea that nothing is real except the self. Hence bondage and liberation can be understood as ignorance and knowledge. Sureswara also suggests this in his vartika that-

अविद्यास्तमयो मोक्षः सा च बन्ध उदाहृतः।

But, the modern generation which is not familiar with this concept understands moksha as some kind of attainment, going to the abode of God, etc. This makes them keep their distance from Indian philosophical and ethical ideas and values. Advaita, on the other hand, brings them near to it.

Dr. Nagesh Hegde

Dreams and deep sleep can be considered as boons by God to understand creation, bondage, and liberation. Otherwise, there would be no examples to explain the unreality of bondage and utter blissfulness of moksha.

The modern generation may be given the example of Arjuna in the first chapter of Bhagavadgeetha to understand the concept of bondage. Adi Shankara bhagavatpada in his introductory commentary on Gita explains that-

अत्र दृष्ट्वा तु पाण्डवानीकम् इत्यारभ्य यावत् न योत्स्य इति गोविन्दमुक्त्वा तूर्णानि बभूव ह - इत्येतदन्तः प्राणिनां शोकमोहादिसंसारबीजभूतदोषोद्भवकारणप्रदर्शनार्थत्वेन व्याख्येयो ग्रन्थः ।

Therefore Raga, Shoka, and Moha can be understood as Sansara. The cause for this Sansara is ignorance. Ignorance can be removed only by knowledge. This self-knowledge can be obtained from a competent Guru.

May our actions result in bestowing with a Guru and an opportunity to attain self-knowledge.
