CHAPTER-I

SUMMARY OF THE ORGANIZATION

The widespread adoption of puddling as a technique to make iron also contributed to growth in production. In the early days of American ironmaking, craftsmen used a method called fining to produce iron. This meant that the mixture of iron and slag expelled from a blast furnace was separated out by hammering it. Puddling involved adding iron oxide to the blast furnace charge because the chemical reaction made it easier to separate impurities from the iron. Puddlers did the separating by stirring the melted product with a long iron rod. The slag that rose was poured off the top and the iron at the bottom was shaped into balls. The balls were squeezed into iron bars that were worked into the mill's final product (such as rails or rods) by other workers. Puddling required many judgment calls based on experience. Therefore, it could take up to two years of training to become a skilled puddler. Many puddlers in the mid-nineteenth century were successful enough to later move into the ranks of owners.

Preface

The objective of the project was “to understand the Neuro Muscular Blocker (NMB) market & develop the medical positioning for Cisatracurium” for IMRB, for that we have to understand the customer needs (doctors), pricing constraints, response, emotions and beliefs regarding the product, so that they can contribute their valuable inputs for introducing the “Cisatracurium” in India for the company. The objective of this study was to analyze the clinical practice of the available neuromuscular blocker in Mumbai and Pune city with respect to the survey in the best hospitals of the city.

The project was started on 1st of June after knowing all the relevant information regarding the project, under the guidance of Mr. Manjappa(Group Product Manager). The first part of my project involves the study of the Anesthetists’ armamentarium of drugs, Understand the NMB category & their mechanism of action and Clinical use of NMBs & their place in therapy. For this I used Internet as a primary source of information for study, also attended a day with Dr. Amit Arora discussing the topics. Along with the detailed study of NMB category the study was more focused on Cisatracurium.

Since, the next part of my project was to develop the questionnaire respected to medical positioning for Cisatracurium and clinical preferences of current NMBs available. Hence, the detailed study provided me a rough idea in developing questionnaire and my corporate mentor guided me in finalizing the questionnaire. For this the questionnaire was prepared which gave the vague idea about the customers, who were really interested in practicing the new molecule and wanted to know about the availability of the molecule in the country. Go through questionnaire in different hospitals and people in the Pune and Mumbai city. The marketing research was undertaken for Pune and Mumbai region during one month. The sample size of the marketing research was taken to be 40. The questionnaire contains various aspects like their Name, Contact Number, E-mail Id, Hospital Name, NMB preference and Cisatracurium advantage etc. The final part of the project consists of 15 days of scanning the questionnaire.

Most important part is analyzing the information.

SUMMARY

The machine industry or machinery industry is a sub sector of the industry, that produces and maintains machines for consumers, the industry and the most other companies in the economy.

The success of an organization mostly depends on the product they manufacture. The production management also called operations management, planning and control of industrial processes to ensure that they move smoothly at the required level.

Techniques of production management are employed in service as well as manufacturing industries. It is a responsibility similar in level and scope to other specialties such as marketing or human resource and financial management. In manufacturing operations, production management includes responsibility for product and process design, planning and control issues involving capacity and quality, and organization and supervision of the workforce.

Manufacturing Industry in India has gone through various phases of development over the period of time. Since independence in 1947, the Indian manufacturing sector has traveled from the initial phase of building the industrial foundation in 1950's and early 1960's, to the license-permit Raj in the period of 1965-1980, to a phase of liberalization of 1990's. Indian Manufacturing sector currently contributes 15-16% to GDP (2015) and gives employment to 12% (2014) of the country's workforce. Studies have estimated that every job created in manufacturing has a multiplier effect, creating 2-3 jobs in the services sector. In a country like India, where employment generation is one of the key policy issues, this makes this sector a critical sector to achieve inclusiveness in growth. India contributes 2.2 per cent of the global manufacturing output which is at par with developed economies of the world such as U.K and France.

The purpose of this project is to study and understand the products and pricing and to know how exactly the production function in an organization. It also stimulates and helps to understand the work environment better. The study assesses the performance of the organization and examines the changes in environment. The

The company Toyota Kirloskar Motor Pvt Ltd (TKMPL) according to its mission statement aims to play a major role in the development of the automotive industry and the creation of employment opportunities, not only through its dealer network, but also through ancillary industries with a business philosophy of "putting customer first".

On June 7, 2012, vice Chairman of the company revealed that the company is planning to enter the healthcare sector and its first hospital would open in Karnataka in May 2013.

On 16 March 2011, it announced that it was increasing production to 210,000 vehicles per annum due to increase in demand for its models especially the Etios and Fortuner.

With effect from June 1, 2012, Toyota Kirloskar Auto Parts will be increasing the prices of Etios diesel and Fortuner by 1 per cent and Fortuner and Etios Liva diesel by 0.5 per cent. Executive Summary

The estimate made by the Ministry of Food Processing Industries (1998), the total market of bakery product, bread and biscuit is estimated at 1.5mn ton and 1.1mn ton respectively. The cake market is estimated at 0.4mn ton. The organized segment of the biscuit market is estimated to be 0.44mn tons whereas the unorganized sector accounts for the balance 0.66mn tons.

The confectionery industry has a current capacity of 85, 000 tones, the market is growing at the rate of 10-15% per annum. The estimated annual production of bakery products in India is in excess of 3 million tones, of which bread accounts for nearly 50% and biscuits 37% in volume terms in the organized sector. The bakery sector in India is one of largest segments of the food processing industries; annual turnover in value terms is approximately $ 900 million.

Chocolates, hard-boiled sweets, chewing gum and other products are a major growth area. The bakery industry includes basic baked products like breads, biscuits, cakes, pastries, rusks, Buns, rolls etc.

The word 'Biscuit' is derived from the Latin words 'Bis' (meaning 'twice') and 'Coctus' (meaning cooked or baked). The word 'Biscotti' is also the generic term for cookies in Italian. Back then, biscuits were unleavened, hard and thin wafers which, because of their low water content, were ideal food to store.

Biscuit industry in India in the organized sector produces around 60% of the total production, the balance 40% being contributed by the unorganized bakeries. The industry consists of two large scale manufacturers, around 50 medium scale brands and small scale units ranging up to 2500 units in the country. The unorganized sector is estimated to have approximately 30,000 small & tiny bakeries across the country.

55 – 2017 – 18 (Batch 2017 – 19 – I Sem)

The annual production of biscuit in the organized sector, continues to be predominantly in the small and medium sale sector before and after de-reservation. The annual production was around 7.4 Lac tonnes in 1997-98 in the next five years, biscuit production witnessed an annual growth of 10% to 12%, up to 1999-00.

In order to conduct this MRP-I report we have done primary research to know the performance of four major biscuit players with respect to customer loyalty. We have also done the financial analysis of four major players of biscuit industry through secondary data for last five years, which includes aggregate industry ratio analysis, separate company's ratio analysis, aggregate industry sales trend of last ten years and production trend of last five years.

We have also done the various analysis like SWOT Analysis, five force model, PESTL Analysis, Strategic Group Mapping,
