Research experience

Research Experience: Islamic Jurisprudence Paradigm Shift in the Malabar Region
Conducted groundbreaking research challenging the prevailing Middle Eastern-centric paradigm of Islamic jurisprudence, with a keen focus on the Malabar region. Leveraged Mahmood Kooria's insights on Islamic Law's reformative dimensions to emphasize the transformative potential within scriptural works. This study sought to establish an innovative perspective, countering orthodox narratives and deconstructing monolithic jurisprudential structures upheld by Islamic Ulema. Key to this exploration was the analysis of the central text, "Jammul Jawami," to scrutinize the status of Babul Ijtihad. Presented robust arguments grounded in historical and anthropological evidence, contributing a postmodern lens for a profound understanding of Malabar's socio-legal dynamics. This research significantly enhances the discourse on Islamic jurisprudence.
