15. Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary

Institute has taken conscious effort to ensure that various departments working under different schools (Humanities, commerce and management and Science) begin envisioning how the curriculum can be blended in near future to bring in interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches. It involves fostering an environment that encourages collaboration, knowledge sharing, and integration of diverse perspectives and expertise.

Following initiatives undertaken by institute:

- Assess the current state: A core team was constituted to evaluate existing structure, culture, and practices of the institution to understand its strengths, weaknesses, and areas for improvement. The team then identified any existing multidisciplinary initiatives or teams.
- Develop a shared vision: The leadership team along with core team clearly defined the purpose and goals of institution's multidisciplinary approach. We created a vision statement that communicates importance and value of integrating diverse disciplines.
- Encourage diverse recruitment: Institute decided to actively seek individuals with diverse backgrounds, expertise, and perspectives during the hiring process.
- Foster collaborative culture: Efforts were made to promote a culture of collaboration, cooperation, and open communication within institution. Employees encouraged to engage with colleagues from different disciplines, share ideas, and seek opportunities for interdisciplinary projects.

- Create interdisciplinary teams: Few cross-functional teams were established that bring together individuals from different disciplines to work on specific projects or initiatives. Encourage team members to exchange knowledge, learn from each other, and leverage their diverse expertise to solve complex problems. Students have been benefitted through community engagement and environmental learning.
- Provide interdisciplinary training and development: Research and Development cell offered training programs, workshops, and seminars that promote interdisciplinary thinking and collaboration. This helped employees understand value of multidisciplinary approaches.
- Develop shared spaces and platforms: Institute also initiated a separate physical and virtual spaces where individuals from different disciplines can come together to exchange ideas, collaborate on projects, and share resources.
- Support interdisciplinary research and projects: The leadership also allocated resources, funding, and time for interdisciplinary research and projects within the institution. Encouragement was given to employees to pursue interdisciplinary initiatives and provide the necessary support to ensure their success.
- Establish interdisciplinary governance structures: The IQAC also created a task force that oversee and promote the institution's multidisciplinary approach. This body was responsible for coordinating interdisciplinary projects, evaluating outcomes, and providing guidance on integrating disciplines.
- Recognize and reward interdisciplinary efforts: Decision was taken to acknowledge and celebrate individuals or teams that actively contribute to the institution's multidisciplinary approach. The annual review and evaluation also considered incorporating interdisciplinary achievements into performance evaluations, promotions, and reward systems.
- Seek external collaborations: Institute has sought Collaboration with external organizations, universities, or experts from different disciplines to foster cross-pollination of ideas and knowledge. Measures are envisaged to engage in joint projects, conferences, or partnerships that promote multidisciplinary approaches.
- Monitor and evaluate progress: Institute has set up a mechanism to continuously assess the effectiveness of the institution's efforts to become more multidisciplinary. This has helped the institute to collect feedback from employees, track interdisciplinary projects, and evaluate the impact of institution's multidisciplinary approach on achieving its goals.

16.Academic bank of credits (ABC):

The Institute has been registered under the ABC to permit our students to avail the benefit of multiple entries and exit during the chosen programme. Efforts have been initiated through scouting for like-minded institutions/Universities for seamless collaboration, internationalization of education, joint degrees between Indian and foreign institutions, and to enable credit transfer.

Here are some initiatives that the institute has undertaken:

- Curriculum Mapping: The institute has mapped its curriculum to the learning outcomes and competencies required by the ABC. This ensures that the courses offered align with the credit requirements and can be easily transferred and recognized by other institutions.
- Credit Transfer Policy: The institute has established a clear credit transfer policy that outlines the criteria and process for transferring credits earned by students. This policy has adhered to the guidelines and standards set by the ABC.
- Articulation Agreements: The institute is working on establishing articulation agreements with other educational institutions, including universities and colleges, to facilitate the transfer of credits. These agreements specify the recognition of credits earned at the institute and ensure seamless credit transfer for students.
- Documentation and Records: The institute has established the necessary infrastructure to maintain comprehensive documentation and records of student achievements, including course syllabi, transcripts, and assessment results. This documentation serves as evidence for the credits earned by students and facilitates credit transfer processes.
- Quality Assurance: The institute has embraced a robust quality assurance mechanism in place to ensure the academic rigor and standardization of its courses. This includes regular curriculum review, assessment of learning outcomes, and monitoring of teaching methodologies.
- Student Support Services: The institute has setup the necessary infrastructure to provide adequate support services to students regarding credit transfer processes. This includes academic advising, counselling, and assistance in understanding the credit transfer requirements and procedures.

- Awareness and Communication: The institute has undertaken initiatives to create awareness among students, faculty, and staff about the Academic Bank of Credit and the benefits of credit transfer. Clear communication channels have been established to address any queries or concerns regarding credit transfer.

17.Skill development:

The institute has made efforts to strengthen vocational education and soft skills of students in alignment with the National Skills Qualifications Framework (NSQF). Some of the initiatives undertaken for achieving the alignment are:-

- Curriculum Development: The Institution has revised their curricula to align with the NSQF. We have integrated vocational education and training (VET) courses into the programs, ensuring that students gain practical skills and knowledge in addition to theoretical concepts. The curricula are designed to meet the specific requirements of various industries and job roles, providing students with relevant vocational skills.
- Skill-based Training: The Institution has established dedicated skill development centers under the Training and Development cell within the campus. Specialized training programs are offered in collaboration with industry partners, focusing on specific vocational skills. Students can enroll in these programs alongside their regular courses to acquire practical skills demanded by the job market.
- Industry Partnerships: The Institute has formed partnerships with industries and organizations to bridge the gap between academia and the industry. These partnerships involve industry experts contributing to curriculum design, providing guest lectures, conducting workshops, and offering internships or apprenticeships to students. Such collaborations ensure that students receive industry-relevant training and exposure to real-world scenarios.
- Soft Skills Training: Recognizing the importance of soft skills, the institute has incorporated comprehensive soft skills training into the curriculum. We offer courses and workshops on communication skills, teamwork, problem-solving, leadership, and other essential skills. These programs aim to enhance students' employability by developing their interpersonal and professional skills.
- Assessment and Certification: The Institute has implemented assessment and certification mechanisms aligned with the NSQF. They conduct regular evaluations of students' vocational skills and knowledge, often in collaboration with industry experts. Certificates and diplomas are awarded to students based on their performance in these assessments, which are recognized and valued by employers.

- Career Counseling and Guidance: Career counseling services are provided to students, helping them explore various vocational pathways and make informed decisions about their education and career choices. Career guidance programs assist students in understanding the NSQF levels, job roles, and potential career prospects associated with different qualifications.
- Quality Assurance: Through the IQAC, the institute has ensured quality assurance in vocational education by adhering to the guidelines and standards set by the NSQF. They undergo periodic reviews and audits to maintain compliance with the framework, making necessary revisions to their programs and teaching methodologies.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

By integrating the Indian knowledge system into the institution, we intend to contribute to the preservation, promotion, and contemporary relevance of traditional wisdom, fostering a deep sense of cultural identity and appreciation among students and faculty members. Efforts are being made to inculcate the various proponents of IKS into the system of the institute.

The following are the efforts that have been undertaken -

- Curriculum Development: Initial efforts have been put through revising the curriculum to include subjects or modules that focus on Indian knowledge systems. Subjects such as Yoga, traditional arts and crafts have been imbibed. By offering these subjects as part of the curriculum, students have been benefitted with a holistic and comprehensive understanding of the Indian knowledge system.
- Guest Lectures and Workshops: The institute has invited experts and practitioners from various traditional Indian disciplines to deliver guest lectures or conduct workshops can enrich students' learning experience. These experts have shared their knowledge and insights into traditional practices, indigenous wisdom, and cultural heritage. This exposure helped students appreciate and understand the Indian knowledge system from firsthand experiences.

- Cultural Events and Celebrations: Organizing cultural events and celebrations within educational institutions has helped foster an environment that values and promotes the Indian knowledge system. Events such as traditional music and dance performances, festivals, art exhibitions, and cultural fairs provides platforms to showcase and celebrate indigenous knowledge, arts, and practices. These events have created awareness and generate interest among students, encouraging them to explore and appreciate the richness of the Indian knowledge system.
- Faculty Development and Training: Providing faculty members with training and development programs on the Indian knowledge system has enabled them to incorporate relevant content and pedagogical approaches into their teaching. Faculty members are encouraged to attend workshops, seminars, and conferences focused on traditional knowledge systems, ensuring they have the necessary expertise to integrate Indian knowledge into their courses effectively.

It is also planned to establish partnerships and collaborations with indigenous communities and practitioners is crucial for integrating the Indian knowledge system into institutions. Such collaborations can lead to knowledge exchange programs, joint research projects, and community engagement initiatives that promote the Indian knowledge system.

Good practices for skill development include Curriculum alignment with requirements of the industry and the job market, practical learning opportunities with the industry, skill-oriented courses and electives, industry collaboration, skill assessment and feedback for all the students of the institute.

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

When focusing on outcome-based education, there are several best practices adopted by the institute. Outcome-based education emphasizes the desired learning outcomes and places less emphasis on traditional teaching methods. Here are some key practices to help the institute focuses on to achieve outcome-based education:

- Define clear learning outcomes: Faculties clearly define the expected learning outcomes for each course or program. These outcomes are measurable and are expected to be specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound (SMART). They should describe the knowledge, skills, and competencies that students should acquire.

- Align curriculum and assessments: The institute ensures that the curriculum is aligned with the desired learning outcomes. The faculties develop assessments that directly measure the attainment of these outcomes. This alignment ensures that teaching and learning activities are targeted toward achieving the desired outcomes.
- Use constructive alignment: Faculties have implemented constructive alignment by designing teaching and assessment strategies that support the achievement of desired outcomes. This involves designing learning activities that promote active student engagement and aligning assessments with the desired outcomes.
- Engage students in the learning process: Faculties encourage active student participation in the learning process. Use learner-centered approaches such as problem-based learning, case studies, group projects, and discussions are actively used. Students are provided ample opportunities to apply knowledge and skills in real-world contexts.
- Provide timely and constructive feedback: Faculties offer regular and timely feedback to students on their progress toward achieving learning outcomes. Feedback provided is specific, constructive, and focused on helping students improve their performance. This feedback loop allows students to track their progress and make necessary adjustments.
- Foster collaborative learning: Faculties promote collaboration and teamwork among students. Students are encouraged to work together on projects, discussions, and problem-solving activities. Collaborative learning helps develop communication, interpersonal, and teamwork skills, which are often essential outcomes in many disciplines.
- Continuous improvement and evaluation: The IQAC regularly evaluates the effectiveness of the teaching methods and assessments in achieving the desired outcomes. The IQAC collects and analyzes data on student performance, feedback, and program outcomes. This information is used to make informed decisions for continuous improvement.
- Engage stakeholders: Through structured mechanism, the institute involves stakeholders such as employers, industry professionals, alumni, and accrediting bodies in the process. Their inputs are regularly sought on the desired learning outcomes, curriculum design, and assessment methods. Their perspectives are documented and provide valuable insights into industry needs and help ensure the relevance of the education provided.

20.Distance education/online education:

Blended learning, which combines traditional classroom instruction with online learning activities, has become increasingly popular in the institute. The institute has identified select online tools and resources that align with the students' learning objectives and are user-friendly for both students and teachers. The institute has been using learning management systems, interactive websites, educational apps, and multimedia content.

Faculty strike a balance between online and offline activities to ensure students have a mix of both virtual and face-to-face interactions. This could involve using online resources for independent study and using in-person sessions for discussions, hands-on activities, and assessments.

Some of the best practices include:

- Optimum utilization of learning management systems (LMS): The institute has implemented a robust learning management system that serves as a centralized platform for course delivery, content dissemination, assessments, and student interaction. The LMS has supported discussion forums, chat features, video conferencing, and assignment submission.
- Adapt instructional strategies: Faculties consider the unique requirements of ODL when designing instructional strategies. They blend theoretical content with practical applications through virtual labs, video demonstrations, and case studies. They also provide hands-on experiences through internships, on-the-job training, or practical workshops with collaborated organizations wherever possible.
- Offer student support services: Faculties provide comprehensive support services to students pertaining to ODL, including academic advising, counselling, technical assistance, and access to learning resources. Students are encouraged to register for NPTEL, NSDC and other MOOCS through established channels for students to seek help.

CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curriculum Design and Development

1.1.1 - Curricula developed and implemented have relevance to the local, national, regional and global developmental needs which are reflected in Programme Outcomes (POs), Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and Course Outcomes (COs) of the various Programmes offered by the Institution.

The courses offered by Surana College are relevant to local, national, and international needs for growth and development. The content, pedagogy and evaluation of each course are designed to ensure the attainment of the Course Outcomes.

Every department of study that provides a programme has a Board of Studies (BoS) made up of internal and external members. faculty members of Surana are internal and subject experts from industry, alumni and other educational institutions are external members. Courses designed by the faculty are recommended for approval in the BoS, where they are discussed and approved, and are forwarded to Academic Council for final ratification.

Each programme includes overall programme outcome, program-specific outcome, and course outcome for each course. Additionally, each course or subject within a specific programme has a course objective that outlines the course's learning outcomes. Since all of Surana's programmes adopted the NEP Scheme in 2021-22, significant adjustments have been made to each programme, and the course objectives and outcomes are now made explicit.

Salient Features:

- Industrial/Field visits, Internships in industries, project reports are made mandatory.
- Also, to enhance the employability & entrepreneurial skills of the students, Value added courses/Certificate courses/Add on courses are conducted by each department every year.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses students' learning levels and organises special programmes for both slow and advanced learners.

Institute implements several methods to identify learning levels among students. It happens at three stages over period of maximum 40 days from the commencement of classes.

Mechanism for identifying Slow and Advanced learners includes:

- Class Interactions
- Previous semester /Year Marks
- Learning of concepts
- Subjects and assessments

Measures Taken to bridge the gap between slow and Average Learner :

- Remedial classes are conducted with appropriate focus on the course.
- Individual academic counselling.
- Peer to peer learning .
- Rigorous mentoring system by assigned mentors.
- Timely Mentor-Parent interactions.
- Activity based learning like, topic /unit wise tests, assignments, Quizzes etc.
- Solving previous years question papers

Various activities are conducted for Advanced Learners:

- Advanced assignments or tasks are assigned to advanced learners
- Motivation to participate in interactive activities like debates, group discussion
- Advance learners are grouped with slow learners to promote peer learning
- Participation in various cultural, extra-curricular and research competitions in and out of the college
- Guiding for career planning.

- Motivate to take up exams like, CMA,CA, PG CET ,CS etc.
- Seminar on the advanced topic
- Guiding and encouraging to communicate research papers in conferences and Journals
- Encouragement to complete MOOC/Advanced courses
- Encouragement Participation in Seminars/Conferences

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student-centric methods such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences:

- Institute's Vision and Mission itself encourages student centric outcome-based learning methods. With this learner centric approach institute is transforming students attitude form passive seeker to active and involved learner.
- Their participation in organising various extra and co-curricular, inter/intra departmental, inter/intra-college events is best example of experiential learning approach. This not just enhances confidence among students, but also showcases learning outcome instantly.
- With autonomy and NEP implementation simultaneously, students able to explore experiential and participative projects in all programs. Dissertation project involving data collection, public relation for events, internship programmes, etc. helps to widen student's imagination and experience.

- Educational trips, Visits to Industry , Press , Theatre , Surveys, interaction with industry experts, nurtures self-evaluative attitude among students superseding the lacunae in curriculum and leaping to achieve the industry demands.
- Discussions and debates on contemporary issues are encouraged. Skill enhancement and generic courses are added to hone the students for life.
- Compulsory involvement in non-CGPA courses - Rotaract, NCC, NSS, sports, Yoga. impart knowledge to participate, integrate and evolve.
- Research based group projects of academic and practical importance helps in reflective thinking, problem solving and to logically analyse.
- Students actively participate in administration by serving as student representative in different committees.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT-enabled tools including online resources for effective teaching and learning

Institute provide MS teams as a centralised platform for online classes, assignment submission and assessment. Class recordings are mandatory for all teachers if indulging into online teaching practices. These recordings are available to students through Institute's ERP software OPTRA INDIA. The students and parents can access these recordings by using the login id and password provide them during admission time.

- Google classroom and zoom are the other platforms use by teachers to engage students in learning activities.

- All classrooms in the institute are ICT enabled, with working projectors and internet facility. Campus is enabled with 500mbps bandwidth with necessary access points and routers which ensures uninterrupted data connection while implementing technology driven teaching-learning.
- Institutes runs a YouTube channel providing pool of lectures and other student centric activities. Apart from institute's channel, teaches have their own YouTube channels or video sharing platforms.
- All teaching faculty members use LCD projectors for effective subject delivery. Podcasts, Tedtalks, audios stimulations, virtual labs, virtual conferences, webinars, social media presence, blogging these are few of regular IT base student centric activities followed in institute.
- Institute have language lab, software like Corel Draw, Photoshop are available to students and teachers for the betterment of class environment.

2.5.3 - IT integration and reforms in the examination procedures and processes including Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA) have brought in considerable improvement in the Examination Management System (EMS) of the Institution

Examination procedures: Post notification by COE, QPs received from QP setters(internal/External) are scrutinised by BOE, corrections incorporated, one among them picked for examination. 10% UG Examination papers are reviewed by External evaluators, and all PG papers are evaluated by Internal and External evaluators. Candidates scoring more than 35% marks in SEE and 40% marks in the aggregate with IA Marks are declared to have passed the course.

Processes/procedures integrating IT: On ERP students pay Examination Fees, download Application Form, submit for approval, and download Hall Tickets. Student's enrolment list is downloaded from ERP and used for room allocation during the examinations. The IA Marks entered by teachers are aggregated to result sheet for processing the results. ERP supports direct attendance entry through mobile application.

Continuous Internal Assessment System: CIA has 40% and 30% weightage respectively at UG and PG level with two components C1 and C2. C1 is test component for 20 Marks and C2 is for 20 Marks for which, tools like open-book tests, portfolios, case study/assignments, seminars/presentations, field work, internship / industrial practicum / project work, projects, dissertations, peer and self-assessment, etc.. will be applied. Students final IA Marks are added to their SEE marks to process the results.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on the website and communicated to teachers and students

The conscious efforts are made by the teachers to percolate outcome base learning system in the institute. Hence first and foremost the program outcomes are conveyed to students during induction programmes. They also are displayed in the department for first one week from the commencement of classes on the notice board in the corridor, department's course book, syllabus and on college website.

Course outcomes are conveyed to parents and students during admission counselling, at the orientation program, during bridge courses and at the beginning of every new unit as to make student understand the objective of the lesson they are studying.

Course outcomes are prepared by all the course teachers and are incorporated in the teaching pedagogies they are using in the classes. Throughout the unit course outcomes are repeated to make students understand the importance of that topic and its relevance in the programme. With the implementation of NEP focusing on the outcome has become an integral part of learning process. Based on COs and POs assignments, Project Works and Internal Assessment is formulated.

Regular FDP's and workshops are conducted by IQAC cell to understand and evolve the concept of the of outcome base learning among teachers.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes as evaluated by the institution

The PO and CO attainment is done through direct methods based on internal assessment and external assessment.

The process of attainment of COs, POs and PSOs starts from writing appropriate COs for each course of the program from 1 to 3 year in a degree programmes. The course outcomes are written by the respective faculty member using assessment rubrics for each CO. (suggested by Bloom's taxonomy. Then a correlation was established between COs and POs in the scale of 1 to 3, 1 being the slight (low), 2 being moderate (medium) and 3 being substantial (high). A mapping matrix is prepared in this regard for every course in the program including the language and soft skill subjects.

Three internal assessment tests are conducted for each course in a semester. In each test, the percentage of students who achieve a set target (usually, 60% of the maximum marks, i.e., 15 of 25) for the COs that are covered is computed. After the three tests, the average of these percentages is computed to decide the attainment level. Any lacuna found will be rectified the next academic year.

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of an effective leadership in tune with the vision and mission of the Institution

Surana College (Autonomous) since its inception has been catering to all sections of society on need-based quality education. Institution has many case studies on inducting average students only to raise them to achieve distinction and ranks. Emphasis is on both academic and holistic development of students. Constantly identifying value-additions to the curriculum, college designs balanced curricular and co-curricular components into its practice.

Institution prepares students into self-reliant, independent thinking, globally relevant, skilled and socially useful resources of the nation embedded with human values. Institution encourages research to challenge the life and knowledge concepts by out-of-box and lateral thinking.

Student and Staff involvement is the key functioning in college activities, extension activities, community services and sustenance of academic environment. Parents, Scholars, veterans and prominent citizens have pat on the back with suggestions and motivation. Corporate sector, service industry and socio-cultural institutions look up to have our students in their organizations. Staffs are aware of the importance of identifying and training different levels of leadership with a 360' perspective. Healthy academic relationship between faculty and students has enhanced and secured the learning outcomes and has preserved the joy of learning. Immense support from Management and good interdepartmental coordination makes institution stand proud.

6.1.2 - Effective leadership is reflected in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management

In constructing its administrative structure on the idea and practise of decentralisation of functions, the Institution has kept up with the times. It also has a track record of being strong and durable. Consistent leadership, along with the development of a network of participatory decision-making.

To address issues such as administrative concerns, teacher attrition, responding to a rapidly changing world, The teachers are active members of academic and administrative committees of college. In addition to regular teaching, they undertake remedial coaching, academic and career counselling, and student mentoring.

Structure of decision-making bodies is developed to oversee the operation of the Institution's many departments and to foster progress in all areas. These committees exist at all levels, from the student body to the administration.

Individual departments have autonomy in terms of curriculum creation, career counselling, and the organisation of co-curricular activities. Class Mentors, Welfare Officers, and Student Counsellors all play important roles in students' overall formation and holistic development. These lecturers are in frequent communication with the College's administrative authorities, who discuss pertinent topics in meetings and reach solutions or policies. To enhance its leadership, the college has implemented a consultative leadership structure that solicits and adopts proposals from all stakeholders.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing quality assurance strategies and processes visible in terms of incremental improvements made during the preceding year with regard to quality (in case of the First Cycle): Incremental improvements made during the preceding year with regard to quality and post-accreditation quality initiatives (Second and subsequent cycles)

PRACTICE I

One of the distinguished practice of Surana IQAC is to mandate every department to conduct bridge course. Bridge courses are supplemental knowledge provided to the students. It is conducted before the commencement of first semester classes, The objective of the bridge course is to help students to bridge the gap between the subjects they have studied at pre-university and the subject they study in graduation. For Postgraduation bridge courses are designed to provide an insight to the specialization courses they would learn in their programmes. All departments framed curriculum for the bridge course and the curriculum was delivered to the students of respective disciplines.

PRACTICE II

Surana IQAC aims to create awareness among faculties and research scholars with regard to current science topics and emerging trends. To inspire and encourage ongoing researches in research and higher learning institutions, Surana IQAC motivated all departments to submit research proposals. Several departments wrote proposals to KSTA to support for workshops, seminars and Short term courses designed on contemporary issues on Science, Technology and Society. Proposals from all departments were scrutinised and 5 proposals were finalized and submitted to KSTA. All 5 proposals were accepted and grants was provided by KSTA.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching-learning process, structures and methodologies of operation and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through its IQAC as per norms

Through a simplified approach, the IQAC analyses the teaching plan, teaching-learning process, innovative pedagogy used, and assessment of learning results.

- Orientation on Teaching and Learning: Based on the previous year's review, the department heads deliver an orientation on the teaching-learning process, including desired course results and pedagogies.
- Course Plan: Faculty members submit course/teaching plans outlining the topic, pedagogies, skill development, ICT, and expected outcomes. The plan is based on the previous year's evaluation.
- Decentralised Course Outline Review: The submitted course plan is reviewed and approved by the department panel. LMS stands for Learning Management System. The KJLMS committee trains faculty members on how to use the learning platform and assesses the content and curriculum delivery on a regular basis.
- Use of Student- Centred Pedagogy: The learning level identification mechanism functions as a guidebook for assessing the teaching-learning pedagogies used with slow and advanced learners.
- Work-done Diary: The instructor records the teaching-learning interaction in the work done diary on a daily basis. Annual self-evaluation.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within a maximum of 200 words)

The campus practices source-level trash segregation. Recycling and disposal were carried out as necessary as a result. At strategic spots across the campus, there are separate trash cans for dry garbage, wet waste, plastic waste, and e-waste. Waste that can be broken down by natural processes is likewise divided into biodegradable categories and non-decomposable materials that are not biodegradable. In Kumba, biodegradable waste is processed and utilized as plant and tree manure. On the whole campus, separate containers are utilized for dry and wet garbage. There is a dustbin available in each space (staff, classrooms, offices, rest rooms, and libraries) to help with trash separation.

The campus's garbage is cleaned up by the housekeeping crew, who then gathers it and deposits it into the larger bins at the disposal site in a separated way. The BBMP vans transport the garbage there. Separate containers to collect food waste are kept in the canteen to handle wet waste management that is generated from the on-campus cafeteria as well as leftovers from tiffin boxes provided by students, teachers, and non-teaching employees of the institution. The person in charge of the canteen separates the waste food into degradable for further processing.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Highlight the performance of the institution in an area distinct to its priority and thrust (within a maximum of 200 words)

The institution concentrates on a few distinct traits for which outcomes are tracked. The Planning Committee, which meets at the beginning of each academic year to discuss methods to take into account a changing environment, is made up of the Principal, IQAC, and Department Heads.

Hybrid learning was frequently used to safeguard the children's safety and security throughout the outbreak. The recorded lectures, video-based learning, student presentations, and virtual internships were some of the highlights of this session.

Social outreach has served as the cornerstone upon which the institute's beliefs and objectives have been built. Social outreach programs were carried out by the NCC, NSS, Rotaract, Student Council, and other departmental organizations.

Peer therapy was used by some of our students and mentors as part of a pilot program for an internal well-being centre for faculty and students.

The idea of career is taken into consideration while examining a graduating student's professional alternatives in terms of entrepreneurship, higher education, and employment depending on their skill sets.

Project-based learning is currently used in the majority of programs to ensure that students attend expert lectures and workshops that enhance their ability for critical and creative thought.
